BOBBLE IN NINTH
Panella Giving Up Eight Hits in Ninth Inning Lost Game For Spartanburg
Spartanburg, Aug. 12.—Panella held Greenville to two hits in eight innings but in the ninth he went to pieces and gave up eight hits and with his bobble netted Greenville the game. Plyler was hit for five singles in the 8th which produced two runs. Two of Greenville's hits were bunted flies that went over the infield and one was a two base hit. Up to the two last frames the game was a nice exhibition of pitching by Plyler and Panella with Panella having the best of it.

MULLALLY AND MANNING CLASH
Voters at Newberry Witness Near Fight When Manning Resents Allegations
Special to The Intelligencer.
Columbia, S. C., Aug. 12.—Newberry. —A sharp clash between Richard I. Manning and J. A. Mullally was the feature of the campaign meeting here today. Another feature was the unusual oratory in the part of practically all candidates. There were more than 1,000 voters present.
Mr. Mullally was making a severe denunciation of Mr. Manning because of his criticism of the pardon record of the governor.
"Nobody but a dastard would cry down the fair name of South Carolina," said Mr. Mullally. Mr. Manning advanced quickly and, facing Mr. Mullally, said: "I declare that all of these statements you read about me are maliciously false and but for what I learn of your condition from a New York paper, I would carry this matter further." There was a general rush to the stand and much noise was created.
Mendel L. Shultz told the voters that he was against the governor on every proposition.
John G. Richards charged that Mr. Richards did not tell the voters who he voted for in 1912.

During all these years I have used it and recommended it many times, and it has never disappointed anyone. For sale by all dealers."

LINER IN PORT BRING CROWD
FIRST GREAT CROWD TO LEAVE EUROPE HAS ARRIVED
STIRRING SCENES AS BOAT REACHES PIER RETURNING AMERICANS ARE LUSTILY CHEERED
(By Associated Press.)
New York, Aug. 12.—The American Liner Philadelphia, with the first great crowd of Americans who rushed from Europe after war was declared, were 703 persons in the cabin and 209 in the steerage. Virtually all were without baggage, many without money and all told, stories of hardships.
The Philadelphia sailed from Southampton a few hours after England declared war on Germany. The first day out a fleet of seven French torpedo boats and three submarines was sighted. One of the torpedo boats hurried after the liner, the rest following slowly. Finally the torpedo boat—the B. 7—came alongside and ordered the Philadelphia to stop.
The vessel circled the liner several times, its officers looking closely at the faces of the passengers crowded on the decks. When the French naval officers were sure the Philadelphia was an American vessel and that the passengers were Americans, one shouted in excellent English that the Philadelphia might proceed. The passengers cheered the English ships. The cheer was returned and the war vessels steamed away.
Refugees in the steerage were given the freedom of the ship. The men were separated from the women, however, and in some cases were separated from their wives by this regulation. Rather than sleep in the steerage scores slept in the smoking room, on the boat deck, under the boats and life rafts, and in steamer chairs. Four persons were in every cabin.
As the Philadelphia neared her pier the crowd waiting on shore shouted a welcome to the refugees. Then for a quarter of an hour the whole river resounded with cheers.
The regulation preventing a ship which arrives after sundown from proceeding to her dock until the next morning was waived tonight. The Philadelphia did not reach quarantine until after 9 o'clock. The port authorities did everything possible to have the ship and its load of passengers move quickly and an hour and a half after she arrived in the lower bay the last of her passengers had gone ashore.
Hundreds on board had rushed from the interior of France and Germany. Travelers from Paris told of mobs swarming through the streets, breaking windows and looting German shops. Others told of Germans in the French capital being beaten by gendarmes and excited citizens.
Streets near the railroad stations were piled high with abandoned small steamers, constructed to accommodate from 600 to 900 persons carried 3,000 men, women and children across the channel.
Mrs. B. Blackburne, of Cincinnati, a passenger, left Gletsch, Switzerland, July 31, for Paris. She was forced to occupy a third class compartment with soldiers and peasants. She sat on the floor of the car throughout the trip. In Paris she was informed she had just time to catch the last train for Calais, where she could get a boat across the channel. She abandoned her baggage in a street and reached a railway station a few minutes before the train left.
Five thousand American and English men and women were trying to get on the train, she said. Some rode between the coaches rather than be left. There was no water on any of the trains.
A committee formed on board the Philadelphia today to assist Americans aboard, issued a statement saying: "No words can exaggerate the desperate condition of stranded Americans, all over Europe, outside of England."
Many passengers said they had been stopped in Germany and forced to prove they were Americans and not Englishmen. Others had been stopped in France and asked whether they were Germans. With a few exceptions all were treated courteously.

WARBURG TO APITULATE
WILL SEVER FINANCIAL CONNECTIONS TO SERVE
BIG OPPORTUNITY SEES CHANCE TO PUT THROUGH A GREAT PIECE OF CONSTRUCTIVE WORK
(By Associated Press.)
Washington, Aug. 12.—Paul M. Warburg's testimony before the senate banking committee, made public today, reveals that as a member of the Federal reserve board he will divest himself of all financial connections, even though not required by law to do so.
"I cannot discuss the affairs of my firm or my partners," said Mr. Warburg, "nor be asked to criticize acts of my partners, either to approve them or in any other way. I think that my firm (Kuhn, Loeb & Company) is not up to its nominee for membership on the Federal reserve board. I am going to leave that firm; I am going to leave my Hamburg firm, and every single corporation with which I am connected. More than that, I am going to leave every educational and philanthropic association with which I am connected. I think a man who is on the Federal reserve board ought to be like Caesar's wife; he ought to be above suspicion; he ought to be without any entangling alliances."
Mr. Warburg also said he would discontinue all his interests in railroads, mentioning in particular the Baltimore and Ohio, of which he was a director.
"If you are going to sever your banking and business connections," Senator Deed suggested, "it must be at a tremendous financial sacrifice."
"A sacrifice, yes," Mr. Warburg replied. "I think it will be a bigger sacrifice than any of these gentlemen around the table has any idea of."
When President Wilson asked me whether I would take this thing, and put it up to me in a very kind way, and asked if I were willing to make the sacrifice, because he thought that I was the man for it, I felt that I had no right to decline and I will be glad to make the sacrifice, because I think there is a wonderful opportunity for bringing a great piece of constructive work into successful operation and it appeals to me to do that."
The present currency law, Mr. Warburg seemed superior to the Atlantic bill. The weakness of the present law, he said, lay in the fact that the Federal reserve board has "gone to" have very large powers in order to overcome the decentralization.
Questioned as to his politics, he said that basically he was a Republican but that in the last contest he was for Wilson.

EXCURSION TRAIN IN BAD WRECK
Engine Turns Turtle at Tuxedo, N. C., Killing Fireman Others Injured
Asheville, N. C., Aug. 12.—An excursion train from Savannah, Ga., to Asheville, was wrecked at Tuxedo this afternoon, the engine turning over and killing the fireman, Bert Cooley. Several passengers were injured.
The train, a special excursion on the Southern Railway, was derailed by a broken switch 22 miles from this city. All of the injured were in the Pullman car at the time of the wreck. The fireman died of his injuries scalded beneath the overturned engine.
The injured, all of Savannah, are Mrs. Morgan Fender, ankle and knee sprained; Mrs. Ida Barnwell, head and neck injured; Mrs. J. E. Herbert, forehead cut; Mrs. W. J. Leonard, bruised about face; R. D. Graham, hand cut; L. E. Coster, back sprained.
The excursion left Savannah yesterday morning.

MILLIONAIRE UNABLE TO RETURN TO U. S. A.
J. B. DUKE WOULD FLEE EUROPE HAS ASKED FOR AID
Powerful Influence Being Used In Effort to Secure Passage For Him
Anderson people have heard with much interest that J. B. Duke, who is quite well known here, is in Europe and cannot obtain passage to the United States. It seems that Mr. Duke's millions have not been sufficient to help him since the war broke out and he has been forced to cable to the United States for help. The following article appeared in the Charlotte Observer yesterday:
Observer Bureau, Washington, Aug. 11.
The State and War departments were asked today to aid J. B. Duke, former president of the American tobacco company and a large owner in the Southern Power Co., with headquarters at Charlotte in getting out of London and back to America. Among those who presented the appeal for Mr. Duke were Z. V. Taylor and Cameron Martin of Charlotte and Secretary Daniels of the Navy.
The State department this afternoon cabled Ambassador Page, at London to look into the Duke case and see what can be done. There is some mystery about the request of Mr. Duke. He has millions and is well acquainted with Mr. Paze, yet he is unable to leave the capitol of Great Britain.
Mr. Duke, it was argued by his friends today is needed here now to save the tobacco industry from ruin. The European war has helped to demoralize the business.
Mr. Taylor was armed with a message from Mr. Duke. He was accompanied by Mr. W. R. Perkins of New York, personal attorney for Mr. Duke. Mr. Morrison's presence in the party was merely incidental.

Prices for wheat recovered only in part from a break of 2 1-2c. Despite comparative firmness at the close the market showed a net decline of 3-4 to 7-8. Corn finished 1 to 1 1-2 above last night, oats up 3-8 to 3-4 and provisions at an advance of 5 to 30 cents.

MYSTERIOUS MURDER
Prominent Chicago Man Found Dead In Office.
(By Associated Press.)
Chicago August 12.—Edward P. Amory secretary of the Western Railroad Association late today was found dead in a pool of blood in his office in a downtown office building. There were two deep cuts on his head. The police believe he was murdered.
Papers and books scattered about the room indicated a struggle had taken place.
A. M. Thompson, an employee, who discovered the body, was taken to the police bureau for identification, where an impression of his finger tips was taken.
Miss Janet Schoben, Amory's stenographer, told the police she had gone to the office at the usual time today but had been unable to enter.
A note in Amory's handwriting was found on his desk. It was scribbled on a piece of yellow scratch paper and read:
"Label and scandal. Russell and 8888. Will be malice."
The police believe the note was Amory's dying effort to leave a message to identify his murderer.
He apparently had made a desperate struggle.

ANDERSON LOST TO TUNE OF 1 TO 0
GAMECOCKS WON PRETIEST GAME OF SEASON YESTERDAY
McCOLL PITCHING Allowed Only One Hit Up to the Eighth Inning and Then Gave Up Three
Gaffney Aug. 12.—The Gaffney gamecocks won the prettiest game yet seen on the local diamond from Anderson this afternoon by a score of 1 to 0.
Dagerhardt, twirling for the locals, was in his usual form and fanned 14. McColl, on the mound for the visitors, used a slow ball with excellent effect, and up until the eighth inning only one hit had been secured off his delivery but in the 8th three successive hits netted one run and the game.
